

Privacy Policy - Titanity LLC

Last updated August 27, 2024

1. Introduction

Titanity LLC ("Titanity", "we", "our", "us") values your privacy. This Privacy Policy describes our practices concerning the handling of any information that may be collected through your use of our website <https://titanity.co> (the "Website"). We are committed to protecting your privacy and ensuring compliance with all relevant legal frameworks, including the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), and other applicable laws.

2. Information We Do Not Collect

At this time, Titanity does not collect any personal information from users. This includes but is not limited to:

- Names
- Email addresses
- Phone numbers
- Payment information
- IP addresses
- Browser data

Our Website is informational only, and we do not have features such as user registration, login, or forms for collecting personal data. Should this change in the future, we will update this policy accordingly and ensure that you are notified of any new data collection practices.

3. Cookies and Tracking

Our Website does not use cookies or any other form of tracking to monitor or collect data about our visitors. However, please note that your web browser may automatically generate cookies, such as session cookies, which are not managed or controlled by us. Additionally, if our Website includes third-party content, such as embedded videos, social media widgets, or fonts, these third parties may set cookies or similar technologies on your device.

Managing Third-Party Cookies

We do not control these third-party cookies, and we recommend reviewing their privacy policies for more information. You can manage cookies through your browser settings, where you can block or delete cookies if you choose.

We are committed to ensuring transparency about our practices. Although we do not use cookies or tracking technologies, we advise you to review the privacy policies of any third-party services used on our site for more information on their cookie practices.

4. GDPR and California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA) Compliance

While Titanity does not collect personal data directly, we acknowledge the rights of users under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA). If in the future we collect any personal data, users will have the following rights:

Under GDPR:

- Right of Access: You have the right to access any personal information we may hold about you.
- Right to Rectification: You have the right to correct any inaccurate or incomplete information.
- Right to Erasure: You have the right to request that we delete any personal data we hold about you.
- Right to Restrict Processing: You have the right to request that we limit the processing of your data.
- Right to Data Portability: You have the right to receive your personal data in a structured, commonly used format.
- Right to Object: You have the right to object to the processing of your data based on legitimate interests, direct marketing, or other specific circumstances.

Under CCPA:

- Right to Know: California residents have the right to request information about the categories and specific pieces of personal data we may collect, use, or disclose.
- Right to Delete: California residents have the right to request that we delete any personal information we may hold about them.
- Right to Opt-Out: California residents have the right to opt-out of the sale of their personal information.
- Right to Non-Discrimination: California residents have the right to not be discriminated against for exercising any of their CCPA rights.

If any of these rights become applicable in the future, we will inform you accordingly and update this privacy policy. To exercise any of these rights, you may contact us using the information provided in the "Contact Us" section.

5. Jurisdiction-Specific Disclosures

This Privacy Policy is intended to comply with the privacy laws of the jurisdictions in which we operate. If you are a resident of a jurisdiction with specific privacy laws (e.g., GDPR for European Union residents, CCPA for California residents), this Privacy Policy provides you with relevant information about your rights and our obligations. If you have any questions or need further information, please contact us.

6. Third-Party Links

Our Website may contain links to third-party websites. We are not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of those websites. We recommend that you review the privacy policy of each website you visit. These third-party websites may collect information about you if you interact with them, and they may use and disclose that information in accordance with their privacy policies.

7. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. Any changes will be reflected on this page with an updated "Last Updated" date. We encourage you to review this policy periodically to stay informed about how we are protecting your information.

Notification of Changes

If significant changes are made to this Privacy Policy, especially if we begin collecting personal data, we may notify you through the contact information we have on file (if applicable) or through a prominent notice on our Website.

8. Contact Us
